Catherine J. Kim is an Associate in the firm's Long Beach office. Her areas of practice include Business, Property and Construction. Prior to joining Danniss Woliver Kelley, Catherine was an Attorney at another firm representing school districts and public entities in Los Angeles. She has extensive experience in drafting contracts, board resolutions, and discovery requests. Her practice is focused on advising clients on complying with public contracts, education, and government laws and regulations.

While attending Loyola Law School, Catherine served as Senior Research Editor for the Loyola of Los Angeles Law Review and volunteered for the Employment Rights Clinic. She also clerked for the Children's Law Center of California, assisting attorneys in Dependency Court proceedings and court hearings.
